PLANE TALK

International News Service)

24 Air Commerce Rules

Licensing or registration of planes is required by the United States Department of Commerce. Pilots, too, must be licensed.

A minimum of 10 hours' solo flight is required for a private pilot's license, 50 hours for limited commercial pilot's license and 200 hours for transport or unlimited commercial pilot's license.
All must pass a rigid physical examination.

Air traffic rules have also been codified by the government. Notable among them are these:

On established airways, planes shall fly to the right.

Of two planes approaching an intersection of their courses, the plane finding the other on its left has the right of way.

When two planes near each other from opposite directions with possibility of collision, each shall alter its course to the right.

A plane overtaking another shall alter its course and pass to the right and not fly over or below it, keeping a minimum of 3,000 feet between.

Planes shall not fly over cities or other congested areas at less than 1,000 feet nor over open country at less than 500 feet.

A plane landing has the right of way over planes taking off or moving on the ground.

When landing or maneuvering, the plane at a greater altitude shall be responsible for avoiding another at a lower altitude.

BIG CROWD WITNESSES FOOTBALL CONTEST HERE

Approximately 2,000 Fans See Teams Battle to Scoreless Deadlock

WAS A BRILLIANT GAME

(By T. M. Juno)

Approximately 2,000 fans of Bristol and nearby sections were treated to a fine dish of football yesterday afternoon on Sullivan's Field when the Bristol St. Ann's and Eddington A. A. battled to a scoreless deadlock.

Throughout the game many thrills were exhibited but despite some wild efforts on the part of both elevens no one scored.

Eddington was outplayed in every quarter except the third, when scientific football was used to carry the ball from one length of the field to the other.

Fourteen first downs were made by the "Saints." Eddington made just one half of that number—two in the first half and five in the second half would be the right calculation for this number.

St. Ann's completed six passes for considerable yardage. Two aerials were executed by the visitors.

The locals threatened the Eddington goal line three times, but a fifteen-yard penalty on two occasions did them no good. Eddington failed to give in on the other attempt.

"Shine" Gilardi gave the fandom its first thrill of the game late in the second frame. He caught a Spadaccino pass and raced sixty yards down the field but his wind gave out and he was forced to yield to one of his tacklers.

"Sid" Trott intercepted a pass in the final period and only the safety man, Spadaccino, and the goalpost were between him and a touchdown.

Spadaccino made the tackle, saving the game for Bristol.

"Bud" Davil, Taxis and Lawler were Eddington stars. Greco and Roe were the best on Bristol's side.

A rematching of the two teams is expected for December 8th. St. Ann's plays Cornell A. A. on Sunday.

TWO WEDDINGS PERFORMED HERE ON THANKSGIVING

Miss Adelaide Amelia Layng Is Bride of William White

ARE NOW IN NEW YORK

Miss Regina Spezzano is Wed
To Charles Rich at St.
Ann's Church

Two weddings of interest were performed here yesterday when Miss Adelaide Amelia Layng became the bride of William White and Miss Regina Spezzano wed Charles Rich.

At eleven o'clock, Thanksgiving Day, in St. James's Protestant Episcopal Church, Miss Adelaide Amelia Layng, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Layng, of 237 Jackson street, became the bride of William White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer White, of Wood street.
The ceremony was performed by Rev. George Boswell, rector of the church; and Mrs. Minerva Epstein, organist, played Lohengrin's wedding march, as the bridal party entered the church. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Poulette, of Market street, brother-in-law and sister of the groom, attended the couple.

The bride wore an attractive gown of brown net over satin, made on straight lines with two tier skirt ending in points. The waist was made with a cape effect in back and a velvet bow was at the waistline on the left side. With this was worn brown slippers with stockings to match, gold metallic hat, a string of crystals around her neck, which was a gift from the groom, and a corsage bou-quet of sweetheart and yellow roses.

Mrs. Poulette was charmingly attired in a gown of pancy cotton crepe, made on straight lines and she wore black kid slippers, stockings and hat to match her dress and a corsage bouquet of roses.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Covers were laid for twelve, which included the bridal party, relatives of bride and groom and a few friends. The living and dining rooms were prettily decorated with yellow and white crepe paper streamers, draped from the four corners to the center of the rooms, and in the dining room, they hung gracefully over the chandelier to the table.
A large wedding cake weighing fifteen pounds formed the centerpiece on the table.

Late in the afternoon, Mr. and Mrs.
White left via motor for their honeymoon to be spent in New York City and vicinity. They will be away for several days. Upon their return they will reside in their newly furnished apartment at 1907 Wilson avenue.
The bride wore as her traveling costume, a green tailored canton crepe dress, brown coat trimmed with fox collar and cuffs, brown tight-fitting hat, brown kid slippers with stockings, gloves and hand-bag to match.

Mrs. White was born in Canada and came here with her parents about four years ago. She has been employed for some time past, in the picking room of the D. Landreth Seed Company. Mr.
White is a native of Bristol, attended the public schools and graduated from Bristol high school in the class of 1924. He was quite active in athletics and played on the baseball and football teams while in high school. Mr.
White is now employed as receiving clerk at the Keystone Aircraft Corporation.

St. Ann's Catholic Church was the scene of a pretty wedding yesterday afternoon at two o'clock, when Miss Mary Regina Spezzano, daughter of Mrs. Mary Spezzano, of 215 Franklin street, was married to Charles Rich, son of Mrs. Regina Rich, of 612 Wood street.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Jenne, rector of the church, and the wedding march was played on the organ by William Spezzano, brother of the bride. The maid of honor was Miss Anna Rich, sister of the groom, and the bridesmaid was Miss Anna LaSalle, of Franklin and Cedar streets. Serving Mr. Rich as best man, was his brother, John Rich, also of Wood street.

The bride wore a beautiful dress of white bridal satin made princess effect, the skirt of which was edged with lace and featured a hemline long in the back. The sleeves were long and tight-fitting, the neckline "V" shape and the waist was shirred in the front.
Her veil of tulle was edged with lace and was Spanish crown shape, trimmed with orange blossoms and pearls.
She wore white satin slippers and silk stockings and carried a shower bou-quet of white chrysanthemums, carnations and stevia.

Miss Anna Rich, the maid of honor, was attired in a gown of light pink silk moire, made with tight-fitting bodice and no sleeves. The skirt was full, trimmed with light pink tulle around the bottom, ending in the uneven hemline. A spray of pink rosebuds hung gracefully over the left shoulder and she wore a black moiré hat trimmed with tulle, black satin

DOYLESTOWN, Nov. 29.—The first passenger bus accident on Warrington Hill last August, has been filed in the suits and another divorce proceeding has been started.

Miss Edna R. Baughman, a local nurse, who was on the passenger bus which overturned on Warrington Hill, injuring a number of people, has filed a suit for $50,000 damages against the bus company.

For the affections and love of her husband that she says were stolen from her by another woman, Mrs. Anna Zoph, of Quakertown, is asking $50,000 heart balm in a suit brought against Pearl Stover, of Quakertown.

The plaintiff is the wife of Charles Henry Zoph. She was married to him on February 16, 1924, in New York City. According to the papers filed in the suit, they "lived happily at 551 Arthur street in Philadelphia from the husband and that the home was always made comfortable, welcome and happy until Pearl Stover, wrongfully, wickand destroy the affection of Charles Henry Zoph for her." The plaintiff averts that in Quakertown, Pearl Stover enticed Charles H. Zoph to take up his residence with her.

BRISTOL WINNER OVER TEMPLE HIGH, 7 TO 0

Locals Surprise Philadelphia Eleven With New Formation Attack

800 FANS WATCH GAME

Rivalry between Bristol and Temple was at its height yesterday when the local team defeated Temple High to the score of 7 to 0. Bristol surprised the Philadelphia team by springing a new and unexpected formation attack. The rival team was left dumbfounded as to what to do when they discovered the formation, and failed to stop the Cardinal and Gray from scoring.

A crowd numbering close to 800 witnesses the battle which can be classed as the most glorious victory which the local high school has ever won. The spectators went wild over the touchdown made by Tullio on a forward pass hurled near the goal line. This was certainly a big surprise for the visiting team expected to win this Thanksgiving Day battle.

Favored to win because of their enormous size and their past record the Templetons have been a little overconfident of victory and not as fully prepared as Bristol for the last and most important game of the season.
Several times Lafferty's sensational runs reinforced the fighting spirit of the team to the winning point. Bucking up against men twice their size Pico and Cole played marvelously well and formed a beautiful interference for the ball carriers. Dries and Davis leading the plays in the close formation made several wonderful tackles and threw the rival carriers back for several yards loss.

Dries seized the ball on the kick-off and ran to Temple's 47 yard line.
Temple was very threatening at first and kept Bristol from gaining any ground. Bristol was forced to kick.
From their own 35 yard line Temple prepared to go up the field but the Bristol boys held the line just as well as the others. Temple kicked to their own 43 yard line when Bristol started their triumphant march up the field.
Lafferty carried the pigskin for a beautiful 25 yard yard run after escaping from the grasp of the enemy's line and backfield men and the favors were with Bristol for a good time to score.
But the Temple team called time out and in the next two plays Bristol failed to gain an inch of ground. Third down and ten yards for first down Bristol tried a forward pass over the goal line but the pass was uncompleted and Temple received the ball on their 20 yard line.

Temple was faulty in several instances and lost the ball when the backfield man fumbled and Davis, a "Johnny-on-the-spot," recovered the ball. Tranotti then hurled a pass to Dougherty but it slipped out of his hands and a Temple warrior picked it up. Bristol stopped the enemy from advancing and Temple with only one yard for first down made a center pounce but the attempt was unsuccessful. Lafferty with his face bruised badly beneath his eye tried an end run but a Temple fellow ran through the line and tackled him for an eight yard loss. In the next play, however, with Pico carrying the pigskin Bristol made up for the previous loss. Tranotti again heaved a pass this time to Tullio who crossed the goal in the nick of time and scored six points for Bristol.
Tranotti made the extra point by running through center without any difficulty.

The visitors, however, seemed to snap out of their daze in the beginning of the second quarter. When they marched up the field for quite a way and completed two forward passes, before Bristol could recover from their tiredness and force Temple to kick.

THE OLD FASHIONED GIRL

Questionnaires offer harmless amusement to those who have no better way of occupying themselves. One of the latest is directed to college students, a class often the target of these missives. In this case they are asked to describe the kind of girls they wish to marry. The answers are various, as was to be expected, but a large number indicates a preference for the "old-fashioned girl," whatever she may be. In the vocabulary of youth she seems to be the antithesis of the flapper, though that, too, is a word that calls for definition. ("One as like my mother as possible" is the ideal of one student. Even mothers, however, are not necessarily old fashioned in these days.

Yet this preference for the sedate is considerably qualified in most instances. Many insist it is not to exclude bobbed hair or the state of mind known as up to date. "A good girl, but a live wire," is the modest desire of one. Another calls for a girl who can cook good meals. Another, in a cynically frank mood, says that his wife-to-be must have "a rich old man." He would enjoy wedded happiness without working too hard for it. This is perhaps the unconfessed ambition of many young men who can hardly support themselves, let alone a wife. It would be interesting if the answers were sufficiently biographical to give some picture of the exigent husbands-to-be. How many of them attract the girls they profess to want?

"Love knows no type," is the most sensible answer on the list. Deliberate selection in marriage is none too common. The admirer of the old-fashioned girl is quite likely to succumb to the first flapper he is thrown in with. And why not? The chances are he will be as happy with her as with anyone else.

An opinionated man is usually an opinion rated man, and the rating is not often high.

When a reformer talks about adopting a new measure of values in life, he means his own measure.

Will the time ever come when the race will take its calories and vitamins by a shot in the arm?

Forgiving spirit: The peculiar possession of those who have feathered their nests.

Now and then you see a fellow who expects to become a howling success by nothing but howling.

The reason men no longer strike matches on their pants is because modern pants won't stand it.

Bread cast upon the waters will come back after many days. Note endorsed for others will crop up sooner.

Every community has at least one family that is forever in some lawsuit because everybody else is so tricky and mean.

All glory departs, and it is only a question of time until we shall read a footnote: "Batted for Ruth in the ninth."

Some persons who are dissatisfied with a porcelain bath tub because it isn't pink or blue forget that they once used a wash tub on the kitchen floor.

MR. ARTHUR WALKER

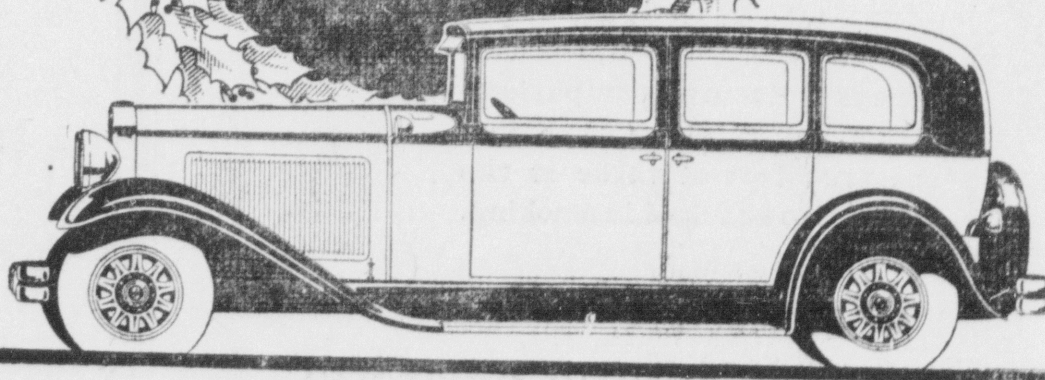

"My liver was not functioning properly, and it put my whole stomach in bad shape," said Mr. Arthur Walker, 1116 Cherry Street, Erie, Penna. "My feet, legs and arms would cramp and become stiff. At times I couldn't close my hands. Every meal caused gas, and subsequent bloating. I was subject to severe dizzy spells and terrible headaches. I was almost forced to give up my work."

"I must say Konjola is wonderful. I began to feel much better almost immediately, and as I continued the treatment the aches and pains quickly disappeared altogether. My liver now functions properly. My legs and arms no longer cramp nor become stiff. There is no pain anywhere. I eat what I want, and when I want it, without fear of suffering afterwards. The dizzy spells and headaches are a thing of the past."

Konjola is sold in Bristol at Hoffman's Cut Rate store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—(Adv.)

Bristol Winner Over

Temple High, 7 to 0

Lafferty and Tranotti alternated in carrying the ball and made first down. Bristol was penalized fifteen yards for holding. This made Bristol's chances for first down more hopeless and they kicked out of danger. Tullio made a nice tackle when he went in the enemy's backfield and tackled the ball-carrier for a five-yard loss. Tranotti once gained 10 yards and another time 5 before Temple stopped them. This ended the eventful first half in which Bristol made one touchdown and added the extra point also.

In the beginning of the second half Temple was prepared to line up against Bristol. But Bristol did not use the spread formation this half and once more Temple faced chagrin in their impossibility to forestall. The Temple backfield man could hardly get the rolling ball on the kick-off and Bristol, fresh from their short rest between the halves, forced Temple to kick. From the 33 yard line Lafferty slipping away from the grasp of the opponents, gained first down for his team. Bristol tried a pass in the next play but it was caught by Temple man instead. Temple also tried a pass but the ball slipped right out of the warrior's hands and touched the ground. In the third quarter Davis intercepted a pass and gained first down for Bristol. Temple got possession of the ball again when Lafferty fumbled on an end run but Bristol held the line strongly and forced Temple to kick again. With the ball on the 25 yard line Bristol was also held from advancing and kicked to their own 43 yard line. Temple exchanged the kick which Tranotti fumbled while attempting to get it. Temple's ball. The rival team tried several forward passes which were intercepted by Bristol. Lafferty again made one of those long runs evading the defense players at the same time. Lafferty fumbled the ball in the next play which gave the ball to Temple. It wasn't very long before Bristol got the ball again and kept it for the last five minutes of play.
